

Junta de Beneficencia de Guayaquil would like to express its utmost gratitude to all benefactors who have contributed financially and invested their time and efforts to help us do massive social work. People, businesses, foreign organizations and hospitals have joined our cause, allowing us to grow into the large NGO we are today.

We are deeply grateful to all organizations, private companies and donors for their priceless help and contribution toward our humanitarian work. Nevertheless, we still request that the community, national and international foundations join our efforts to help Ecuadorians in need. We invite you to be part of the huge humanitarian work we have carried out since 1888, and change the lives of thousands of underprivileged people.

{tab=Private Businesses}

Private Ecuadorian businesses from all fields are present in our work, opening their hearts to the extensive work we do and investing a small amount of money every year toward helping people in need.

{tab=Philantropists}

From the beginning, there have been many generous donors who have contributed to our noble mission and hard work, and whose participation has been immortalized in our institutions, which were named after them. Starting with our founder, Francisco Campos Coello, many people have joined our efforts to help those in need.

The most recent donation we received came from The Paulson Family Foundation,. John Paulson, an American billionaire of Ecuadorian origin, trusted the reputation, history and experience of our organization and donated 15 million dollars to build our new maternal care hospital, which will be named Alfredo G. Paulson, after his father.
